The finance adviser said that the government of Pakistan, civil and military leadership both, had reduced their budgets in its bid to practice austerity in times of crisis. Shaikh said that the government had not borrowed from the State Bank of Pakistan throughout the current year. "The biggest point of the prime minister's package was that cash was given to ordinary people who were impacted [by the coronavirus]," he said, referring to the Ehsaas Emergency Cash Programme. Shaikh said that for the first time in Pakistan's history, Rs250bn were provided to the people of Pakistan "in every city and goth". "This money was provided to 100 million people," he said.

AJK President calls for holding India accountable

DNA

MUZAFFARABAD: The Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) President Sardar Masood Khan has said if our current world order, impartially and non-selectively, pursued international rule of law, instead of realpolitik, Indian officials responsible for crimes against humanity would be in the dock in an international tribunal like the Nazi officials were after World War-II. "There is a long list of India's crimes against humanity in IIOJ&K, but the most despicable and culpable amongst them are genocide, systemic ethnic cleansing, war crimes against non-combatants, and the use of excessive force without respecting the principles of distinction, precaution and proportionality, under the false pretext of fighting terrorism," he said. Masood Khan stated this in an article published in a monthly magazine. He said that whatever the Indian government has done to the Kashmiris especially in the past year (and before) is a flagrant violation of international law, the Fourth Geneva Convention, international humanitarian law in general, and the UN Security Council resolutions on Kashmir in particular.

Court rejects sugar mill owners' plea

A.M.BHATTI

ISLAMABAD: The Islamabad High Court rejected the intra-court appeal by sugar mill owners against the formation of the Sugar Inquiry Commission, whose report made startling revelations about the scandal. The SIC report released last month had laid bare startling revelations about how the prices of sugar are fixed, how exports of the commodity are faked to avail rebates on sales taxes, and how billions of rupees are overcharged by sugar mills owners. The court announced its verdict in the case today (Tuesday) which it had reserved on July 24. Justice Mian Gul Hasan Aurangzeb and Justice Lubna Saleem Pervez, in the verdict, rejected the appeal by the owners, upholding the earlier decision of the single bench. On July 25, the IHC reserved its judgment on an appeal of the Sugar Mills Association against the constitution of the sugar inquiry commission. The petitioners had called for the sugar inquiry report released on May 21 to be declared void and the actions ordered by the prime minister in this regard suspended. The plea, filed by Advocate Salman Akram Raja, stated: "The scope of the Impugned report clearly exceeds the constitutional mandate and limitations of a Federal Commission of Inquiry constituted under the 2017 Act, as it trespasses into matters within the exclusive legislative and executive domains of the Provinces. The entire inquiry has been carried out in a completely illegal, unlawful, opaque, biased and discriminatory manner." "It has been conducted in complete contravention to the requirements of the 2017 Act and the relevant terms of reference. The principle of natural justice as well as the Fundamental Rights of the petitioners including the right to due process, fair trial and non-discrimination have been violated," read the petition. It was filed after the government's announcement that it is forwarding cases to the National Accountability Bureau, FIA and other federal agencies to take punitive actions against those involved in the scandal.

WHO urges nations to join vaccine bid

GENEVA: The WHO wrote to every country on Tuesday urging them to quickly join its global shared vaccine programme and spelled out who would get its eventual coronavirus jabs first. The WHO director-general Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said that without vaccinating the highest-risk populations around the world all at the same time, it would be impossible to rebuild the global economy. And he said the most exposed 20 percent of each country's population - including front-line health workers, adults over 65 and those with pre-existing conditions - would be targeted in the first wave of vaccinations, once the WHO-spearheaded and shared facility can roll out a proven safe and effective vaccine. - APP

Exam chaos

AFTER almost two weeks of protests and threats of legal action by anguished students and their parents, the British exams regulator Ofqual is again reviewing its guidance on how to appeal against A-Level and GCSE grades using mock exam results hours after publishing it. On Saturday Ofqual, under heavy attack from around the world, had constituted a mock exam system for students appealing A-Levels results in England. But it has now suspended its criteria and promised information soon. The confusion simply highlights the huge mess created by the method used by Ofqual and the algorithm it developed to determine grades for pupils who did not sit formal exams this year because of the Covid-19 pandemic. There has been criticism from around the world that the process was unequal and that almost 40 percent of A-Levels grades were marked down from teachers' predictions by the Ofqual algorithm.

The problem is a global one, with CIE exams taken in 160 countries of the world and in thousands of schools. Pakistan's Education Minister Shafiqat Mahmood had also announced several days ago that Pakistan had made an appeal against the exam results to the UK High Commission, the British Council and CIE. He said he was confident that Pakistani students, like others, would be compensated. The whole system put into action by CIE and the British government essentially created massive chaos. In London and other places, there have been protests by students, teachers and parents worried about the future of their children. The British government has faced huge pressure over the mishandling of the exams and the accusations that students at private schools were far less likely to be downgraded. Leaders of the Labour Party have said the problem needs to be fixed and that students must receive correct results which are transparent and can be easily understood by the students as being fair in their assessment and not so far wide off the mark set by the teachers. Let's hope there is some resolution to this problem. The pandemic has caused enough problems; let it not ruin completely the future of our children.

UAE-Israel relations

MUHAMMAD OMAR IFTIKHAR

THE United Arab Emirates, in a shocking move, has announced to normalize its ties with Israel. It is not a matter of when and not if, as signaled by the US President Donald Trump. Speculations are growing with each passing day about which Arab or Muslim country will normalize its ties with Israel. After the UAE-Israel alliance, Iran issued a warning to launch an attack against the UAE. Iranian President Hassan Rouhani has called the UAE's decisions a "huge mistake." He also termed it as a betrayal. The daily newspaper of Iran, Kayhan, in its editorial states, "The UAE's great betrayal of the Palestinian people ... will turn this small, rich country, which is heavily dependent on security, into a legitimate and easy target." UAE's APEX National Investment company has also signed a strategic commercial agreement with Tera Group of Israel. They will collaborate on research and development related to Covid-19. According to APEX's chairman Khalifa Yousef Khoury, "The deal is considered the first business [deal] to inaugurate trade, economy and effective partnerships between the Emirati and Israeli business sectors, for the benefit of serving humanity by strengthening research and studies on the novel coronavirus." Moreover, the United States of America views UAE-Israel ties with satisfaction. US Ambassador to Israel David Friedman during a National Public Radio interview said, "The more the Emirates become a friend of Israel, become a partner of Israel, become a regional ally of the United States, I think obviously that alters the threat assessment and could work out to the Emirates' benefit on future weapons sales." Only time will tell how the countries of the Middle East, the Arab world, and the Muslim countries will react to the UAE-Israel partnership. Until now, it seems the UAE has stepped into the zone of no return. It is yet to be seen if the partnership will continue with the same force as it was manifested into a reality in the first place.

Modi-led Anti-Muslim chauvinism takes dangerous turn

Sajjad Shaukat

Premier Modi had got a land sliding victory in the Indian elections of 2014 and 2019 on the basis of anti-Muslim and anti-Pakistan slogans. Therefore, since Modi came to power, he has been implementing anti-Muslim and anti-Pakistan agenda. Besides persecution of Indian Muslims, Modi has also accelerated war-hysteria against Pakistan and instructed Indian forces to continue shelling across the Line of Control (LoC), which has killed many innocent civilians inside Pakistani side of Kashmir. In fact, Modi is promoting religious fanaticism and the ideology of Hindutva (Hindu nationalism) particularly against Muslims

WITHOUT bothering for the reaction of the international community, Indian extremist Prime Minister Narendra Modi-the leader of the ruling party BJP has continued anti-Muslim Chauvinism in India by leading Hindu terrorism against the religious minorities especially Muslims.

In the recent past, while addressing the Nation and the Indian Parliament about the tensions with minorities in India in passing [Citizenship Amendment Act 2019] CAA, Prime Minister Modi said: "In India, live like Indian Hindu. Any minority, from anywhere, if they want to live in India, to work and eat in India, they should speak an Indian language like Hindi Gujarati, Punjabi, Bengali...If they prefer Sharia Law, and live the life of Muslim's then we advise them to go to those places where that's the state law...India does not need Muslim minorities...we will not grant them special privileges...no matter how loud they yell "discrimination... The Indian customs and traditions are not compatible with the lack of culture or the primitive ways of Sharia Law and Muslims....When this honorable legislative body thinks of creating new laws, it should have in mind the Indian national interest first, observing that the Muslims minorities are not Indians".

Premier Modi had got a land sliding victory in the Indian elections of 2014 and 2019 on the basis of anti-Muslim and anti-Pakistan slogans. Therefore, since Modi came to power, he has been implementing anti-Muslim and anti-Pakistan agenda. Besides persecution of Indian Muslims, Modi has also accelerated war-hysteria against Pakistan and instructed Indian forces to continue shelling across the Line of Control (LoC), which has killed many innocent civilians inside Pakistani side of Kashmir. In fact, Modi is promoting religious fanaticism and the ideology of Hindutva (Hindu nationalism) particularly against Muslims.

In this regard, Indian extremist rulers' various moves such as abrogation of the special status of the Jammu and Kashmir by revoking articles 35A and 370 of the Constitution on August 5, 2019 to turn Muslim majority into minority in the Indian Occupied Kashmir (IOK), continued lockdown in the IOK, issuance of domicile certificates to 40000 non-Kashmiris to bring demographic changes in the Muslim-majority area, martyrdom of thousands of the Kashmiris there, blaming Indian Muslims and Pakistan for spreading coronavirus in India and IOK and targeting Muslims etc. are notable.

As regards the Indian Held Kashmir, reports suggest that due to lack of medical treatment and food, hundreds of the Muslims have already been died—military lockdown of more than one year and deployment of larger number of security forces have martyred many Kashmiris, including women and children through extrajudicial killings, while they have stopped journalist's entry in that region. More people might have also been died owing to the coronavirus pandemic there.

In this respect, BBC pointed out: "Unprecedented restrictions have put Kashmir into a state of lockdown... In one village the residents said...Two brothers were woken up and taken to an outside area...They kicked us...gave us electric shocks, beat us with cables...we screamed, they sealed our mouth with mud...We told them we are innocent...I told them don't beat us, just shoot us. I was asking God to take me, because the torture was unbearable."

Encouraged by the Premier Modi's bigotry, Hindu extremist outfits such as BJP, RSS VHP, Bajrang Dal and Shiv Sena, including other similar parties have been promoting religious and ethnic chauvinism against the Indian Muslims.

In this connection, in the aftermath of the Indian elections 2019, news reports have highlighted different cases in which especially Muslims were violently targeted by the radical Hindus. In respect, RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat stated on October 8, 2019: "Bharat is Hindu Rashtra and all Bharatiyas are Hindus."

Western media reported: "Indian authorities had linked cases of COVID-19 to the Muslims...Muslims have been beaten up, nearly lynched, run out of their neighborhoods or attacked in mosques...Hindu extremists are scapegoating the country's entire Muslim population for deliberately spreading the virus through "corona jihad, Indian hospitals segregates Muslim and Hindu coronavirus patients...In what many are calling a case of "apartheid" during a global pandemic...made separate wards for Hindu and Muslim patients. It is a decision of the government".

Al Jazeera wrote: "Did those who commit crimes against Muslims in India...think that Muslims will remain silent and do not move politically, legally and economically against them? a statement by the general secretariat of the Kuwait Council of Ministers said...people in the Gulf countries felt outraged over the way Indian Muslims were being blamed for the coronavirus pandemic...the assault by the RSS—the BJP's parent body—on Muslims is unacceptable and have labelled it a "terrorist" group that should be banned in the Gulf...Kuwait has appealed to the OIC to intervene in India to tackle anti-Muslim sentiment in the country".

The reality is that under the guise of COVID-19, Indian fanatic entities are pushing Indian Muslims out of informal sector jobs. Muslims are facing a new form of concerted-deliberate economic marginalisation. These zealots are instructing the Hindus not to buy anything from Muslims' shops.

Besides, the Indian Citizenship Amendment Act 2019 (CAA), passed by the Indian Parliament further exposed the discriminatory policies of the Modi regime. The CAA coupled with the National Register of Citizens (NRC) is mainly against the Muslim immigrants particularly from Pakistan, Bangladesh and Afghanistan.

Since last year, daily mass protests continued across every state in India against the CAA and the NRC. Despite criticism of the rights groups, foreign leaders, the UNO and moderate Hindus in wake of violent protests which killed and injured hundreds of persons—mostly Muslims by the police and prejudiced Hindus, Modi's government has not withdrawn the CAA/NRC. In this context, a government-appointed-the Delhi Minorities Commission said in its report on July 16, 2020: "At least 53 people, mostly Muslims, were killed and more than 200 were injured in the worst communal violence in the Indian capital Delhi...against a new citizenship law [CAA] in February, this year...laying out the path to citizenship for six religious groups from neighbouring countries except Muslims. Critics said the law was discriminatory and flouted India's secular constitution...Muslim homes, shops and vehicles...mosques were selectively targeted during the rioting...broke out across the country...Seemingly, to crush the protests, with support of the administration and police, a retaliatory plan of pro-CAA protesters was worked out to trigger violence at a large scale...Some senior BJP leaders like former member of Delhi legislative assembly Kapil Mishra of fuelling the Feb 23 violence".

In its recently released annual report, the United States Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) recommended that the State Department should designate India as Country of Particular Concern—pushed for imposing targeted sanctions on Indian government agencies and officials responsible for severe violations of religious freedom by freezing those individuals' assets and/or barring their entry into the US under human rights-related financial and visa authorities.

The USCIRF report said: "In December 2019, parliament passed the CAA...for non-Muslim migrants already in India from Afghanistan, Bangladesh, and Pakistan by treating them as refugees fleeing religious persecution...The CAA...in conjunction with NRC...is a goal outlined in the BJP's manifesto...this potentially exposes millions of Muslims to detention, deportation and statelessness...cow protection had been promoted by the BJP and the RSS...Lynch mobs...have attacked minorities—including Muslims...Since the BJP came to power in 2014, there have been over 100 attacks...often with the police's complicity".

Notably, 5th August (2020) was the first anniversary of India's revocation of the special status of the state of Jammu & Kashmir (J&K). On this very day, Kashmiris living on both sides of the LoC and their brethren in Pakistan, including rest of the world celebrated the day as the Black Day, while Pakistan, especially observed August 5 as "Youm-e-Istehsal-e-Kashmir" (Day of Exploitation in occupied Kashmir/Kashmir Military Siege Day).

People protested against India, its lockdown in the IOK and brutal treatment of the Kashmiris by the Indian forces, while reminding the internal community regarding the right of self-determination of the Kashmiris as recognized by the UNO-related resolutions. In many Western countries, Kashmiris, Pakistanis and human rights activists conducted demonstrations and rallies.

Modi's anti-anti Muslim chauvinism took a dangerous turn on August 5, this year when he laid the foundation stone for the Hindu Ram temple at bhoomi puja ceremony at the site of the 16th-century Babri Mosque in Ayodhya. The Babri Masjid mosque was destroyed by Hindu zealots with pickaxes and crowbars in December 1992, sparking massive Hindu-Muslim violence that left some 2,000 people dead, most of them Muslims. Even, in its biased verdict, Indian Supreme Court allowed a temple to be built in place of the demolished mosque.

On the same day, in a statement, the Foreign Office (FO) of Pakistan said: "The flawed judgment of the Indian Supreme Court paving the way for the construction of the temple reflected preponderance of faith over justice in India, where minorities, particularly Muslims and their places of worship are increasingly under attack...A temple built on the site of a historic mosque will remain a blot on the face of the so-called Indian democracy...The international community, the United Nations and relevant international organisations should play their part in saving the Islamic heritage sites in India from the 'Hindutva' regime and ensure protection and religious rights of minorities in India".

It is owing to inaction of the US and some major Western countries that Modi is leading the racist Hindutva supremacists against the Muslims in the occupied Kashmir and across India. So, Modi's under declared war against the Indian Muslims will not stop.

Like cigarettes, the Indian media is injurious to your health

Swati Chaturvedi

The endless glory of Modi in Ayodhya for the brick laying ceremony of the Ram mandir. The channels went to town reporting that Modi had been in office now longer than any non-Congress prime minister. They forgot to mention that he is the longest serving prime minister of India, who has refused to address a press conference during both his terms

INDIAN "news channels" should now carry a mandatory health warning: 'Watching this content is injurious to you and the participants' health'.

The "normal" content of these channels is usually bigotry, majoritarianism, sensationalism (a pretend autopsy was carried out on the late Sushant Singh Rajput), shouty fake debates with the "anchor" hectoring his "panel" and uncritical Narendra Modi worship.

If this hate mongering content were not bad enough, a Congress party spokesperson Rajiv Tyagi suffered a heart attack minutes after he was called a "traitor" by BJP party spokesman Sambit Patra last week in a "show". His broken young wife sobbed post the funeral and said Tyagi's last words were: "In logno nei mujhey maar diya" (these people have killed me). Tragically, Tyagi's final debate was on a show that calls itself "Dangal," which when literally translated means a wrestling match.

As a print and broadcast journalist with over two decades of experience, I can only say any media organisation which claims that a wrestling match is remotely akin to journalism is making an epic fool of the viewer.

These alleged "news channels" have a broken business model where they pass off shouting as "news" and garbage as content. One Hindi channel not so long ago used to claim that gods would be coming to blows. Another has the dubious distinction of having an editor and chief executive officer who went to jail for alleged extortion.

Both these "editors" were honoured guests at the Government of India banquet held by Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi for visiting United States President Donald Trump. The reason I share this with you, faithful reader of SWAT analysis, is that this is the real nexus. All these channels amply funded and licensed by the Government of India exist as propaganda weapons for the government.

The hate they peddle and spin as news is weaponised on the what's app groups run by the ruling BJP. Guileless viewers, who still believe they are consumers of "news," are in reality, victims of fake news and propaganda.

Before every election, the channels run ridiculous debates where they rant about "anti-nationals". No real journalist would spin pure hate the way they do. Hours are devoted to lies about an actor's death, masjid versus mandir and attacking the Opposition.

The government is never asked any questions. One female anchor actually laughed along with BJP leader Ram Madhav and echoed him as he said on air: "We have Amit Shah" about toppling an Opposition government. The same senior journalist actually went public after the death of Arun Jaitley, BJP leader, saying: "Who will I talk to every morning?" in her tribute to Jaitley. Incidentally, Jaitley was called "Bureau Chief" by the media in a tribute to his media management. Another female editor, who runs a partisan wire service, incredibly said on television: "Operation Kamal was not successful in Rajasthan this time. But, at no point in time one should assume the party would give up." "Operation Kamal" is the benign name that the uncritical media has given the BJP's attempts at toppling democratically elected state governments. The "editor" is unabashed about her allegiance to the BJP and the joke of a wire service is given hugely lucrative contracts by the government. In Modi's second term, things have come to such a pass that his office decides the "run order" (how news bulletins are shown) of some Panna Pramukh channels. The editor sends the news list and gets approval.

These are criminal acts of subversion by the media, possibly worse than what they did during Indira Gandhi's emergency. At that time LK Advani, founder BJP president, had memorably said: "The media was asked to bend, it crawled." Now most of the Indian media is prostrate at Modi's feet.

The imploding economy, the wonky implementation of the Goods and Services Tax, the Chinese aggression and occupation of India's territory, the migrant workers reduced to starvation, the alarming spread of the pandemic COVID-19 and the lackadaisical government response - none of this is reported or debated by the news channels.

So what is "news" for them?

The endless glory of Modi in Ayodhya for the brick laying ceremony of the Ram mandir. The channels went to town reporting that Modi had been in office now longer than any non-Congress prime minister. They forgot to mention that he is the longest serving prime minister of India, who has refused to address a press conference during both his terms.

That's not "news". Cigarettes are injurious to your health, but Indian news channels practically kill and dismantle minds.

Pandemic to hit hard 220 mln workers in Asia-Pacific: ADB

MANILA: The COVID-19 pandemic will hit hard nearly 220 million young workers aged 15 to 24 in Asia-Pacific region, according to a report released by the Asian Development Bank (ADB) on Tuesday. The report titled "tackling the COVID-19 youth employment crisis in Asia and the Pacific" said the pandemic has triggered a massive disruption of labor markets that has had disproportionate impacts on youth employment. "Through lockdowns and travel restrictions, demand has slumped and many businesses have been forced to close or cut back operations, with serious impacts on workers," the report says. The report, a co-publication of the ADB and the International Labour Organization (ILO), said that nearly 220 million young workers in the region are particularly vulnerable given their short tenure on the job, their employment in especially hard-hit sectors, and their tendency to earn livelihoods in unsecured informal jobs. "Youth will be hit harder than adults in the immediate crisis and also will bear higher longer-term economic and social costs," the study warns. To address the youth employment crisis, the study urges governments to urgently adopt large-scale and targeted responses centered on comprehensive labor market policies, including wage subsidies and public employment programs to minimize the impacts on young students of disrupting their education and training. — APP

Dawood Wind Power brings good effects to Pakistan: Chinese Scholar

DNA

BEIJING: Ruichen Hong, a scholar of Green BRI Centre said that, Dawood Wind Power Station not only can improve energy situation in Pakistan, but also brings benefits to Pakistani society. Gwadar Pro on Tuesday quoted Hong as having said that many countries of BRI are among the world's major energy producing and consuming countries. Meanwhile, they are mostly developing countries, with the requirement to continue expanding its energy markets. Power shortages have been a major constraint on the entire Pakistani economy. Pakistan's power gap is between 4 and 6 gigawatts. The electricity structure dependent on fossil fuels brings a variety of problems to the local government.

Hong explained, in Pakistan, for every 1% increase in the use of fossil fuel, the total carbon emissions will increase 0.226%, which has a significant negative impact on the climate and environment, and is not conducive to sustainable development. Dawood wind power station, one of 14 Priority Energy Projects under CPEC, is located on 1,720 acres of tidal flats 70 km east of Karachi. "Pakistan government hopes to boost hydropower and other renewable energy sources to increase the whole energy supply and optimize the structure of electricity," Hong said, "Sindh province is rich in wind energy reserves. Its southern wind field covers an area of 9,700 square kilometers. The potential of wind energy development is about 11,000 megawatts, and the wind direction is stable, the wind speed is up to 7 meters/second. That means, if properly developed, it can meet 5%-10% of the national power demand." Dawood wind power project brings Significant climate and social effects.

Hong said, "This project provided 200 new jobs for residents during its construction. After completed, the project will generate 130 million kilowatt-hours of electricity a year, which can meet 100,000 Pakistani homes' need and ease the country's electricity shortage." "At the same time, compared with thermal power generation, the renewable electricity produced by wind power station has no direct greenhouse gas emission, while promoting sustainable development."

The electric power industry is an important area which affects the national energy security and economy, so it is highly valued by the government. In order to improve the power structure, the Pakistani government has released a series of supporting policies to stimulate and regulate the renewable energy market.

"During the construction of Dawood project, business operator has made full use of support from local government. On the one hand, it ensures that the government has the right to speak and capable to control the power resources. On the other hand, it stabilizes national economic development, and results in a win-win situation between enterprises and the country," said Hong.

Uzbekistan to assist citizens working abroad

The Resolution of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan of August 11, 2020 defines measures to train population in professions in demand on the labor market, the basics of entrepreneurship and foreign languages. Practical aspects of implementation of this document were discussed at the meeting

DNA

TASHKENT: On August 17, President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev chaired a videoconference on creating decent conditions for citizens working abroad and working systematically with them. It should be noted that this issue is being discussed in this format for the first time in the history of Uzbekistan. Every year, 600-700 thousand people enter the labor market of Uzbekistan. As a result of measures taken to develop economic sectors and regions, up to 500 thousand jobs are created per year. Consequently, employment of almost 200 thousand people has to be provided by external labor migration. This is a natural process that all developing countries go through. Where labor migration is organized properly, there is an increase in employment and family income, and an increase in the skilled labor force. In recent years, much attention has been paid to protecting the rights and improving the living conditions of our compatriots abroad. International agreements on labor migration have been concluded with Russia, Kazakhstan, Turkey, Japan and the United Arab Emirates. A Fund has been created to support citizens working abroad and more than 100 billion UZS have been allocated for this purpose. At the same time, the position of the Advisor to the Prime Minister on External Labor Migration has been introduced. Despite this, there are enough problems waiting to be solved in this system. Issues of social, legal, material and cultural support for our fellow citizens working abroad were discussed at the meeting. The Ministry of Employment and Labor Relations, the Ministry of Supporting Mahalla and Family and khokimiyats were instructed to assist compatriots who returned from abroad in employment, taking into account their profession, qualifications and future plans. The importance of expanding cooperation with major employers was noted, so that Uzbekistan citizens abroad could work in decent conditions. To do this, first of all, it is necessary to train qualified specialists in accordance with the requirements of these enterprises. In this regard, it is planned to introduce a new system. The authority of territorial branches of the Agency for External Labor Migration will be expanded with the right to conclude direct contracts with foreign employers and negotiate with migration services. The branch manager will be considered an assistant to the regional khokim. The Resolution of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan of August 11, 2020 defines measures to train population in professions in demand on the labor market, the basics of entrepreneurship and foreign languages. Practical aspects of implementation of this document were discussed at the meeting. The Head of the state instructed to attract funds from the Fund for Supporting and Protection of the Rights and Interests of Citizens engaged in working abroad for life and health insurance of migrant workers. Instructions were given on simplifying exit procedures and open representative offices of the Agency for External Labor Migration in the cities with a large number of our compatriots. The task was set to strengthen the legal protection of citizens abroad, create an online platform and a call center for this purpose and attract qualified lawyers.
